Stelios A Zinelis MD, BA

Vice President, Hellenic Cancer Society-Cefallonia, Greece.

zinelis@otenet.gr

BA: California State University, California, USA.

Doctor of Medicine: University of Athens, Greece.

Residency in Internal medicine: Shadyside Hospital Pittsburgh Pennsylvania, USA.

Fellowship in Gastroenterology/Hepatology: Shadyside Hospital Pittsburgh

Pennsylvania, USA.

Diplomate: American Board in Internal Medicine and Gastroenterology/Hepatology.

Medical Doctor: Western Penn Hospital Pittsburgh Pennsylvania.

Vice President of the Hellenic Cancer Society-Branch Cefallonia, Greece.

Invited speaker at:

- .4th European Social Forum, May 2006, Athens, Greece: 'Public Health and mobile telephones'.
- •10th Symposium with International participation on Human Health, September 2005, Lixouri, Cefallonia, Greece: 'The effects of Electromagnetic Radiation'.
- Junior and Senior High Schools in Cefallonia, Greece: 'Electromagnetic Radiation and the environment'.

Publications dealing with Electromagnetic radiation in Greek Medical Journals and one Report to the Minister of Health (30-8-05) 'The effects of Electromagnetic Radiation' and a second Report to the Prime Minister of Greece(7-11-2005), 'The effects of Electromagnetic Radiation' (signed by 13 scientists from the Universities in Greece and USA).